

FRIDAY 6 JULY 2018

FROM 9:00 TO 16:30

SATURDAY 7 JULY 2018

FROM 9:00 TO 12:30

INEQUALITIES AND PREFERENCE FOR REDISTRIBUTION

Does the perception of inequalities matter more than the objective determinants of inequalities as it leads to different forms of redistribution?

Does having different values make the concept of “fairness” take different forms in each region?

DOSHISHA UNIVERSITY
IMADEGAWA CAMPUS
RYOSHINKAN 3RD FLOOR
SEMINAR ROOM N°1

Keynote speech by Christina Fong (Carnegie Mellon University)

REDISTRIBUTIVE POLITICS WITH TARGET-SPECIFIC BELIEFS

SPEAKERS

Conchita D'Ambrosio (University of Luxembourg)

Andrew Clark (Paris School of Economics)

Ryo Kambayashi (Hitotsubashi University)

Sébastien Lechevalier (EHESS, FFJ)

Arnaud Lefranc (Université de Cergy-Pontoise)

Toshiaki Tachibanaki (Kyoto Women's University)

Kunio Urakawa (Kyushu University)

Sayaka Sakoda (Doshisha University)

ADMISSION FREE

REGISTRATIONS AT

ffj@ehess.fr

rc-risk@mail.doshisha.ac.jp

ORGANIZERS

Fondation France-Japon
de l'EHESS

Life Risk Research Center
Doshisha University

Fushimi Inari Taisha ©Esteban Chiner, 2015